

'The Evolution of Vanguard Advisor's Alpha: From Portfolios to People'

by Michael DiJoseph, CFA

We've entered an age where basic investing guidance is becoming a commodity. Yet traditional advisory services are as important as ever.

This presentation will allow to you see how you stack up against the broader range of options available to investors – and what you can do to stay competitive in the current environment.